Dear Valued ADT Customer:

ADT is constantly working to enhance the services we provide to you. One way in which we can enhance the security of your alarm system and monitoring service is through the use of a Personal Identification Code (PIC). A Personal Identification Code identifies someone as an authorized person to ADT. Anyone who uses your alarm system or is on your Customer Representative (CR) List to be contacted for signals should know a Personal Identification Code.

Listed below are important Personal Identification Code(s) for your system:

As an increased security measure, you may change your Personal Identification Code at any time.
